Empowering Youth for a Sustainable Future

Erasmus+ youth exchange

Tsaghkadzor, Armenia 15-24 April 2024

Co-funded by the European Union

Project context

Environmental issues have grown in recent years as public awareness and environmental research have advanced. It has started encompassing essential ideas such as "sustainability" as well as new emergent concerns. These include ozone depletion, global warming, acid rain, land use, and biogenetic contamination. However, very few people really care and take measures to improve the situation because of lack of information and awareness. Therefore, environmental problems and the lack of eco-conscious youth thriving for sustainability are the issues to be addressed through this project.

Objectives

- To ensure a clear understanding of the risks and challenges that the environmental problems are bringing to our communities and the human activities on it.
- To increase the social and ecological responsibility of the participants by giving them practical tools and methods.
- To empower the participants with knowledge, skills and attitude about the zero-waste lifestyle, smart consumption, reuse, and recovery of all products, packaging and materials, teach them how to use these practices in everyday life as well as to popularize it in their communities.
- To exchange the best practices of participating countries about different sustainable ways of solving environmental problems in their localities and in their countries

Youth exchanges allow groups of young people from different countries to meet, live together and work on shared projects for short periods.

Youth exchanges take place outside the school environment. On a youth exchange, you can expect to participate in activities such as workshops, exercises, debates, role-plays, outdoor activities and more.
